

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Willard Jeggison
Ottawa, January 21.—The making of a new financial relationship between Dominion and provinces is easily the highlight of an eventful week. If it works out as planned, it may become a historic event in Canadian history.

Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, had a "show down" with a situation which has for five years been growing more complex and formidable. The western provinces, because of drought, crop failure, their comparative youth, their heavy expenditures on capital, around, became practically bankrupt for a while in the depression; they couldn't meet their bills; they couldn't borrow from the public, except at exorbitant rates of interest; they had reached the limit of taxation.

Borrowed from Ottawa
There was only one thing to come to Ottawa. So they came to Ottawa, and got vast sums. Altogether, by the time Mr. Dunning came into office, they had one hundred million dollars. And one of the first things the new Minister of Finance had to turn down was a request from Alberta for an additional ten or twelve million dollars.

These advances were unsecured, except by treasury notes of the province. Not a single provincial government in Canada had secured a budget, after allowing for relief expenditures. The new Finance minister who thought a Liberal in position, orthodox and conservative in finance, thought—and the cabinet agreed with him—that this sort of thing couldn't go on. Ottawa couldn't go on indefinitely loaning money to the provinces. For one thing, the federal government hasn't been paying its own way—not by a hundred million dollars a year.

The show-down came last week. The Dominion advised the provinces that it was going to move for the amendment of the constitution, so that a Loan Council could be set up to govern all future advances to provinces.

Will Help Provinces
At the same time the federal government announced itself prepared to assist provinces materially in getting on top of their own situation. If it would help to refund their debts at lower interest rates, and they were prepared to put up certain security, then the Dominion was ready to place its guarantee behind their refunding operations. This might mean that six per cent provincial bond issues might then be refunded for four, or for three and a half, at the market. Such a measure would represent, if it could be applied to the issues generally sufficient saving to take most provinces out of the straits.

Meanwhile, until the machinery for the council is ready, a hand to mouth policy is being adopted. Alberta needed two million dollars two days after the conference of provincial and federal authorities. Alberta, represented by Premier William Abernethy, was not prepared to surrender any provincial rights to get the two million either. Hon. Charles Dunning could have said, "No agreement, no money." And Mr. Abernethy could have stood firm and repudiated. The federal authorities yielded, for the sake, and Mr. Abernethy got the money, or the best part of it—from Ottawa. But on April 1st, when Alberta wants another $2,200,000, it will be another story. So they say.

Timing Loan Issues Properly
The provinces and the Dominion also agreed to set up a National Finance Council to coordinate loan issues in a scientific manner, so that they are not dumped on the market without any thought as to the timing. Also it was agreed to sort out the several taxation fields, and give the provinces a clearer right to certain sources of revenue. If arrangements can be made the federal government agrees to use its income tax collecting machinery for provincial levies. All in all, it was a fruitful conference, with far-reaching results. The very next day the price of provincial bonds began to rise, and it may be that because of the assurance that a province can get the Dominion behind it, in case of a jam, most of the provinces may be able to take care of their own maturing loans.

Some appointments have been made. Hon. Walter E. Foster becomes Speaker of the Senate. It is generally expected that Pierre Casgrain will be the Speaker of the House of Commons. He was formerly chief whip.

The Annual Congregational Meeting of United Church will be held Monday January 27th. Supper will be served at 6:30 with the business meeting to follow immediately.

Everybody is going to the big curling banquet and dance on February 4th. Remember the date and get your tickets early.

Mr. E. F. Cameron installed a temporary radio in his room Tuesday afternoon, and invited Miss London and Miss Park with their pupils to his room to hear the broadcast of the Service from St. Paul's Cathedral in memory of the late King George. It was a very commendable idea and gave the children an intimate feeling of having been a part of the service, by listening in. Stories were told of The Whispering Tower, The Chimes, etc., all during the intermission.

Did you ever hear a real comedian? Well come on over to the big dance on February 4th and listen to Currie. If you can't get a smile out of him, consult a doctor.

De Alexander will give an address of special interest to young people at the Y. P. S. Sunday evening next.

R. S. LAW

Mr. Law, as President and General Manager of United Grain Growers Limited, is to take up his residence in Alberta within a few months.

The Board of Directors of the Company has decided to establish the office of the President and General Manager at its Calgary Office. That office has been in Winnipeg since 1917, when the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Company amalgamated with the Grain Growers' Company to form United Grain Growers Limited.

Although the Company operates extensively in all three prairie provinces, the extent of its investment is much larger in Alberta than in either Saskatchewan or Manitoba. That fact together with the importance of the Company's business at Vancouver, makes Calgary a suitable location for the office of the President and General Manager.

The election of officers for the year are as follows: President, W. Harold Rieder, Vice President Harold Scheer, Directors, S. F. Garriot, C. Scott, A. Peterson, Sec. Shads, V. J. Molinski.

THE SEA AND SHIPS

Strathmore is no far inland, and our daily interests so much concerned with land questions that we often overlook the daily sailing of ships, large and small, and the formal procedure which precedes the sailing of each vessel. George Patrick in a letter to his father describes in interesting story his father's experience with what was acting for the captain's office on board ship, where papers were duly signed and sealed, before permission to obtain the vessel. The ship was a Japanese Lloyd ship and the Captain a Japanese. A part of the ceremony was the dispatching of liquid refreshments of the best brands obtainable. It was a novel and interesting experience of the rules of navigation.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. T. H. Kruse and family wish to express their sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses and much sympathy shown them in their recent bereavement in their home.

What makes a good life?

The glow of sound health and bodily vigor.

The full enjoyment of the mind at leisure, in wise reading, high thinking and intelligent conversation.

The joy of planting trees, seeds and roots of the earth, of watching their growth and blossoming, and of giving a bouquet of flowers when it will do most good.

The abiding comfort of having work to do, and of doing it well.

The quiet understanding which enables us to like and cherish the human creatures with whom we must live.

The assurance of little more than bare subsistence, so that we must not always deny ourselves a good look, a fine movie-show, a new rough or a film for the camera.

To those who have these and are battling to retain them, as well as to the thousands who today are deprived of them.

All Joy and Prosperity in 1936!

It is my duty to report all that is said; but I am not obliged to believe in all alike. (Herodotus)

Her revels now are ended. These our sectors.

As I foretold you, were all spirits, and Are melted into air, into thin air;

And like the baseless fabric of this vision,

The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,

The solemn temples, the great globe itself,

Yea all which it inherit, shall dissolve.

And like this insubstantial pageant faded,

Leave not a rack behind. I We are such stuff

As dreams are made on, and our little life

Is rounded with a sleep. Prospero in "The Tempest"—

The League standing at the present time is as follows:

Who was the young couple that made such a swift and silent exit from the cook car at midnight?

The young people had a real jolly time.

NAMAKA

A whist party was held in the school Tuesday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Little, highest scores going to Mrs. Colpoys and Mr. George McEwen, consolation to Miss Millie Brecken and Mr. George Sanders. Refreshments were served after which Mr. Fawkes on behalf of the community presented to Mr. and Mrs. Little a beautiful gas lamp with shade and the best wishes of all, to which Mr. Little responded suitably.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and family are holidaying with friends at Canby.

Miss Ivy Watts was hostess to a number of her friends on Friday. Bridge was the form of entertainment and some keen competitions were shown. Mr. C. Bremner and Miss A. Thomson won the highest scores and Mr. H. Wooster and Miss N. Fawkes the consolation. A very jolly time was spent concluding with the usual delicious refreshments.

Some of our hockey enthusiasts motored to Calgary Monday to witness the professional game between Vancouver and Calgary.

ROCKYFORD

The annual meeting of Rockyford Public was held on Wednesday afternoon in the school. The attendance was very small. Mr. R. L. Stone, retiring trustee was returned to office.

Mr. R. L. Pottle spent two days in the city last week.

Mrs. George Muchlener was confined to the house several days with the flu.

The Catholic Junior League entertained recently at several tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. C. Wilson.

The second fire within three months occurred last Wednesday evening when Harwood's Garage was burned to the ground which was started by an explosion. Four cars were saved and four were destroyed in the fire. The garage was partly covered with insurance.

On Friday evening Mrs. S. Davis sponsored an ice carnival and moose-eat dance for the young folk. During the evening the girl guide Committee served hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee to the curlers and skaters. The young people had a real jolly time.

GLENCAIRN

The Y P's held their skating party and winter roast last week taking full advantage of the moon, some noticeably more than others. After skating for three hours their appetites were keen and all enjoyed the refreshments which were served in the cook car, which we now have down near the rink.

Who was the young couple that made such a swift and silent exit from the cook car at midnight?

The young people had a real jolly time.

The young Glencairn boys played at Cheslatta last week and lost 5 to 1.

The Glencairn Farmers' recovery from a set back when they visited Langdon last week, defeated Lytla 6 to 3 on Sunday, trying up Glencairn for second place in the Mid Valley League. NOTE—It was reported that Glencairn weren't the only ones to suffer defeat at Langdon.

Why was a certain young man up early Monday morning, soldering the radiator after the night before?

We all wonder who the prominent young man from Lytla is, who goes to Glencairn so often.

AN EMPIRE MOURNS

"The King is dead; Long Live the King."

Throughout the British Empire and in many friendly nations, flags are flying this week at half mast, and in all one look thereon is inspired a feeling of genuine regret and sadness at the passing of one who had inspired sincere respect, esteem and love.

King George passed through difficult times during his reign and at ways he was the King and Gentleman.

It is an immeasurably high tribute when a sovereign's demise is so sincerely mourned.

King Edward VII comes to the throne as well behaved as his worthy father, and the Empire receives him gladly as their King. Long may he reign.

RUDYARD KIPLING

Rudyard Kipling died Saturday, January 18th at the age of 70 years. The Times says: "One of the most fertile minds of our times has ceased its work. Posterity what ever it may have to say about his opinions can never fail to find that achievement in cold expression, as one of the most singular in English literature and English thought."

Some of his best known works are Departmental Duties, Barrack Room Ballads, Short Stories, Plain Tales from the Hills, Life's Handicap, Puss, Kim, Puck of Look's Hill, The Light that Failed, For Children, Just So Stories, Penses, Likely to Live, The Lieutenant, Ballad of East and West, Puzzy-Wazzy, 12 Envoi, II, Mandalay, Gunga Din.

He was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1907.
